

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

To One Asleep.

Just as a star blooms out of the deep, Deep purple silence of a holy hour; Just as the dream of some amazement comes, Possible still waters in the field of sleep.

Just as a star that disappears at dawn, Leaving a sacred halo where it burned, Passed to the bourn of Beauty Undeserved, Passed from earth's sight, yet not forever gone.

Just as a star sinks in the sweet excess Of rose and silver dawn within the sky, Just as a thought that is too fair to die Lives in the heart as Unseen Loveliness.

—A. H. Rutledge, in October Lippincott's.

Invitations Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worth have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ellie Maury, to Mr. Littleton Fitzgerald, Jr., on Wednesday morning, October 10th, at 8 o'clock, the ceremony to be performed in Grace Episcopal Church.

Miss West is one of the most popular figures in Richmond society, and has just returned from a three-months' trip abroad. She is the granddaughter of the celebrated scientist, Commodore Maury, of the Confederate States Navy.

Mr. Fitzgerald is equally well known and well liked in the social and business circles of the city.

Jennings—Newman.

The wedding of Miss Edwina Newman to Mr. Samuel William Jennings was celebrated yesterday at 6 P. M. in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Thomas Bassett officiating.

The bride is the daughter of the late Isaac Newman and Mrs. Evelyn Coleman Newman, granddaughter of the late Professor A. G. S. Coleman and Reverend William Worsham Coleman, of Amelia county, and great-granddaughter of Daniel Worsham, of the Revolutionary Army.

Mr. Jennings is a graduate of Wesleyan University, and has had a year's post-graduate work at Yale College. During his college career he belonged to the Phi Nu Theta fraternity and of numerous class societies. He is at present general manager of the New York office of the Pittman Automatic Ventilator Manufacturing Company of York, Pa.

Ceremony of matrimony was in palms and flowers. Mr. Ernest Cooley directed the music.

Miss Helen Montague Parrott of Richmond, was maid of honor, and Mr. Herbert V. Jennings of York, Pa., brother of the groom, was best man.

The list of ushers included Messrs. Charles Imhoff, of York, Pa.; Simpson, Williams, Holt, and D. Palmer, United of Richmond.

The bride came to the altar in a flowing white gown, Mrs. Thomas Avery Morris, of Hampton, Va., who gave her away. She wore white muslin, satin, and lace bodice of her gown was trimmed with lace and flowers. Her veil fell from a coronet of lace on the collar, and she carried a bouquet of blue roses.

The maid of honor was attired in pale blue, red, and gold, and held a coronation bouquet of La France lilies.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Eugene Arnett, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Florence Allen, Heath and Miss Mamie White, of Bluefield, W. Va.; Miss Laura Speare, of Hampton, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Murray, of Hampton, Va.; Mr. G. M. Northcutt, of Gloucester County, Va.; and Mr. Charles W. Bouchman, of York, Pa.

Davidson—McCann.

The parents of Miss Elizabeth McCann, daughter of Mr. Charles McCann and the late Major McCann, and sister of Mr. Charles Andrew McCann, a leading young man in Baltimore, in Colonel J. Hall Davidson, a prominent citizen of Lexington, Ky., was celebrated in the home of the bride's mother, No. 104 North Charles Street, on noon of September 26th. The Rev. Dr. F. N. Brady, rector of St. Paul's, officiated.

Major McCann, the bride's father, was well known in Richmond during the war between the States, having commanded the Third Virginia Cavalry on the day of the occupation of Richmond by the Confederacy troops.

The ceremony was performed at an impromptu altar of tall palms and vases of colored flowers on either side by tall green trees—other vases of tall green trees and illuminated stars were arranged.

There were many guests. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Charles Andrew McCann. A stringed orchestra from a place serenaded above played during a recess in the recessional song, and the immediate families of the bride and groom being present.

The bride was conducted low down over white steps, over a white silk carpet, down the aisle. Her veil was bright with orange blossoms.

Miss McCann was in black silk, with white lace trimmings. Mrs. Horner, wife of Stephen A. Horner of the New York City, and Misses F. Florida and Kentucky, for the lighting process. The bride, who is a graduate of the Miss Andrew Peacock of Richmond, will take her mate to his home to live.

J. B. Mosby & Co.

Long Gloves.

Real Kid—Dependable Wearing Kids—12-Button Glace Gloves, in white, black, gray, tan, gunmetal, red, navy, rose and dark green and brown, $3.00 pair.

16-Button Glace Gloves, in white, black, light blue, lavender, pink, blue, heliotrope, tan, maize and gray, $3.50 pair.

Men's 12-Button Gloves, in the new tan and brown shades, elegant wearers, thoroughly stylish, $3.75 pair.

Just as a star blooms out of the deep, Deep purple silence of a holy hour; Just as the dream of some amazement comes, Possible still waters in the field of sleep.

Just as a star that disappears at dawn, Leaving a sacred halo where it burned, Passed to the bourn of Beauty Undeserved, Passed from earth's sight, yet not forever gone.

Just as a star sinks in the sweet excess Of rose and silver dawn within the sky, Just as a thought that is too fair to die Lives in the heart as Unseen Loveliness.

—A. H. Rutledge, in October Lippincott's.

Invitations Issued.

Mr. and Mrs. James R. Worth have sent out invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Ellie Maury, to Mr. Littleton Fitzgerald, Jr., on Wednesday morning, October 10th, at 8 o'clock, the ceremony to be performed in Grace Episcopal Church.

Miss West is one of the most popular figures in Richmond society, and has just returned from a three-months' trip abroad. She is the granddaughter of the celebrated scientist, Commodore Maury, of the Confederate States Navy.

Mr. Fitzgerald is equally well known and well liked in the social and business circles of the city.

Jennings—Newman.

The wedding of Miss Edwina Newman to Mr. Samuel William Jennings was celebrated yesterday at 6 P. M. in St. Mark's Episcopal Church, the Rev. Thomas Bassett officiating.

The bride is the daughter of the late Isaac Newman and Mrs. Evelyn Coleman Newman, granddaughter of the late Professor A. G. S. Coleman and Reverend William Worsham Coleman, of Amelia county, and great-granddaughter of Daniel Worsham, of the Revolutionary Army.

Mr. Jennings is a graduate of Wesleyan University, and has had a year's post-graduate work at Yale College. During his college career he belonged to the Phi Nu Theta fraternity and of numerous class societies. He is at present general manager of the New York office of the Pittman Automatic Ventilator Manufacturing Company of York, Pa.

Ceremony of matrimony was in palms and flowers. Mr. Ernest Cooley directed the music.

Miss Helen Montague Parrott of Richmond, was maid of honor, and Mr. Herbert V. Jennings of York, Pa., brother of the groom, was best man.

The list of ushers included Messrs. Charles Imhoff, of York, Pa.; Simpson, Williams, Holt, and D. Palmer, United of Richmond.

The bride came to the altar in a flowing white gown, Mrs. Thomas Avery Morris, of Hampton, Va., who gave her away. She wore white muslin, satin, and lace bodice of her gown was trimmed with lace and flowers. Her veil fell from a coronet of lace on the collar, and she carried a bouquet of blue roses.

The maid of honor was attired in pale blue, red, and gold, and held a coronation bouquet of La France lilies.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Eugene Arnett, of Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Florence Allen, Heath and Miss Mamie White, of Bluefield, W. Va.; Miss Laura Speare, of Hampton, Va.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Murray, of Hampton, Va.; Mr. G. M. Northcutt, of Gloucester County, Va.; and Mr. Charles W. Bouchman, of York, Pa.

Davidson—McCann.

The parents of Miss Elizabeth McCann, daughter of Mr. Charles McCann and the late Major McCann, and sister of Mr. Charles Andrew McCann, a leading young man in Baltimore, in Colonel J. Hall Davidson, a prominent citizen of Lexington, Ky., was celebrated in the home of the bride's mother, No. 104 North Charles Street, on noon of September 26th. The Rev. Dr. F. N. Brady, rector of St. Paul's, officiated.

Major McCann, the bride's father, was well known in Richmond during the war between the States, having commanded the Third Virginia Cavalry on the day of the occupation of Richmond by the Confederacy troops.

The ceremony was performed at an impromptu altar of tall palms and vases of colored flowers on either side by tall green trees—other vases of tall green trees and illuminated stars were arranged.

There were many guests. The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. Charles Andrew McCann. A stringed orchestra from a place serenaded above played during a recess in the recessional song, and the immediate families of the bride and groom being present.

The bride was conducted low down over white steps, over a white silk carpet, down the aisle. Her veil was bright with orange blossoms.

Miss McCann was in black silk, with white lace trimmings. Mrs. Horner, wife of Stephen A. Horner of the New York City, and Misses F. Florida and Kentucky, for the lighting process. The bride, who is a graduate of the Miss Andrew Peacock of Richmond, will take her mate to his home to live.

Poems You Ought to Know

Whatever your occupation may be, and however crowded your hours with affairs, do not fail to secure at least a few minutes every day for refreshment of your inner life with a bit of poetry.—Prof. Charles Elliot Norton.

No. 943.

When Time, Who Steals

By THOMAS MOORE.

Other selections from this author, his portraits, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

When Time, who steals our years away,
Shall seal our pleasures too,
The memory of the past will stay,
And half our joys renew.

Then, Chloe, when thy beauty's flower
Shall feel the wintry air,
Remembrance will recall the hour
When thou alone wert fair!

Then talk no more of future gloom;
Our joys shall always last;
For hope shall brighten days to come,
And memory gild the past!

Come, Chloe, fill the genial bowl,
I drink to Love and thee;
Thou never canst decay in soul,
Though still be young for me.

And as thy lips the tear-drops chase
Which on my cheek they find,
So hope shall steal away the trace
Which sorrow leaves behind!

Then fill the bowl—away with gloom!
Our joys shall always last;
For hope shall brighten days to come,
And memory gild the past!

But mark, at thought of future years
When love shall lose its soul,
My Chloe drops her timid tears,
They mingle with my bowl!

How like this bowl of wine, my fair,
Our loving life shall fleet;
Though tears may sometimes mingle there,
The draught will still be sweet!

Then fill the bowl—away with gloom!
Our joys shall always last;
For hope will brighten days to come,
And memory gild the past!

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 21, 1903. One is published each day.

work the Museum has done and is doing.

A pleasant incident marked the close of the meeting. Mr. E. V. Valentine, who had been an intimate friend of the late Joseph Jefferson, came in where the ladies were assembled, and asked them to come upstairs and be introduced to a party of his and Mrs. Valentine's guests, the party including Mr. Joseph Jefferson, the son of the distinguished actor; Mrs. Blanche Bender Jefferson, the charming and graceful young matron, who is his wife; Miss Crichton, and Dr. Macpherson Cushman.

The meeting and the little talk which followed were a pleasure to all present.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Gibson Graves and their two sons have returned to their home at No. 200 West Grace Street, after an extended trip to Virginia mountain resorts, including visits to Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs, Hot Springs, and Millbrook Springs.

Miss Mary Hawes Tyler, who has been spending the summer in Nashville, Tenn., and Radford, has returned home to resume her studies at Richmond College.

Mr. W. D. Haden of this city, is taking a course at the University Medical School.

Mr. William J. Lacy spent Sunday in Roanoke.

Misses Elsie and Hazel Kinstrey have returned home after a visit to friends in Newport News.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Campbell and Miss Virginia Campbell have returned from Ashland, where they spent the summer.

Miss Helen Verby has returned from a very delightful visit to Fredericksburg and Washington.

Miss Ada Frazier has returned from Newport News where she was the guest of Miss Nannie Williams.

Miss C. C. Adair has returned to the city after a brief stay in Covington, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis John Eakin have returned from their vacation at the beach, Mrs. Mary H. Hart, and Mr. Carter Clarke Overton, the ceremony to take place in the Methodist church, Blacksburg, Va., at 10 o'clock yesterday evening, October 10th. Miss Eakin had spent all her girlhood in Blacksburg and has many friends there for happiness. Mr. Eakin is a Richmond man, a graduate of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Va., and will take his mate to his home to live.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Osterbind—Eakin.

The Roanoke Times says through its Roanoke correspondent:

Mr. and Mrs. Louis John Eakin, the bride's only sister, were married in white on Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church, Blacksburg, Va.

Miss Solomon Kuhn, of No. 124 Church Street, Norfolk, Va., announced the engagement of her daughter, Mary, to M. Morris Kunkel, of Richmond, Va.

Meeting of C. M. L. S.

The Confederate Memorial Literary Society met yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, with Mrs. Mary Eakin in the chair, and the following ladies present:

Mrs. A. M. Swainson, W. N. Hammett, Miss Berry Ellyson, Miss Emma Smith, Mrs. W. H. Venable, Mrs. C. L. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Brock, Mrs. Alison Horne, Mrs. James Barker, Mrs. W. G. Harris, Miss Ellen Jones, Mrs. W. H. Freeman, Mrs. F. J. White, Mrs. H. N. Norfleet, Mrs. J. A. Grant, Mrs. B. A. Blenner, Mrs. Thomas Brock, Mrs. J. Enders Johnson, Mrs. J. M. Hart, Mrs. W. J. Johnson, Mrs. W. S. Murray, Miss Baumgardner, Miss Nannie Arthur, Mrs. Nannie Shelton, Mrs. J. Y. Glasson, Mrs. Decatur Axell, Mrs. A. W. Patterson, Mrs. Alice M. Tyler, Mrs. N. V. Randolph and Mrs. F. S. Woodson.

Reports from the different committees proved very satisfactory. The society heartily endorsed the plan of "It is" representation at the Jamestown Exposition, especially of the founders reproducing their "Benevolence," the home of the late President Davis. The society asked for the privilege of a room in the building where members could meet, have tea parties and tell visitors of the great

COFFEE WAS IT?

People Slowly Learn the Facts.

"All the time I have been up to now, I used to coffee and the next morning I was dead," said a man who has been drinking coffee for 40 years.

"I kept on drinking coffee because I used to feel good after it," said another.

"I used to feel good after it," said a third.

"I used to feel good after it," said a fourth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a fifth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a sixth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a seventh.

"I used to feel good after it," said a eighth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a ninth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a tenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a eleventh.

"I used to feel good after it," said a twelfth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a thirteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a fourteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a fifteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a sixteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a seventeenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a eighteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a nineteenth.

"I used to feel good after it," said a twentieth.